This huge country house is over 200 years old and needs a full reform but could be restored to its former glory. Some work has been carried out on the property including a new roof. Some of the interior walls have been removed ready to create an open plan lounge dining area. It is located within walking distance of a popular village with 2 bar restaurants, medical centre and shop. The views to the front aspect are across open countryside and to the rear is a very large courtyard which would provide a fantastic courtyard garden. At the rear of the courtyard is another property which in bad condition, which also requires either renovation or could be demolished to provide more garden area.
